[Important Update] Buyer Data Protection Enhancement

Market: Philipines

Effective July 3, 2026, selected buyer information will be masked on ISV, in line with the buyer data protection measures currently implemented in Lazada Seller Center. This enhancement is part of Lazada's ongoing commitment to maintaining a safe and trusted marketplace for both buyers and sellers.

What's Changing?

Certain buyer information will no longer be fully displayed on ISV, including:

- Buyer Name
- Buyer Address
- Buyer Phone Number

This applies to areas such as:

- Order Details
- Batch Export Files
- Invoice Printing

Why Is This Change Being Made?

The update is designed to better protect buyers' personal information and reduce the risk of unauthorized access, misuse, fraud, or data leakage outside of the Lazada platform.

Impact on Seller Operations

[Important Update] Buyer Data Protection Enhancement (cont'd)

There will be no impact to your day-to-day operations.

You will continue to be able to:

- Process and fulfil orders as usual
- Arrange deliveries
- Manage order-related operations
- Communicate with buyers through Lazada-supported channels

What Do You Need to Do?

No action is required from sellers at this time.

However, if you are using any internal systems, integrations, or workflows that rely on unmasked buyer information from ISV, we recommend reviewing them before the effective date.

Next Day Delivery — Fast Shipping, Arrives Tomorrow

Next Day Delivery is a program designed to boost sales by elevating the buyer experience through a "Fast Shipping, Arrives Tomorrow" service. This serves as a key driver for purchase decisions and creates a competitive advantage for sellers. The system assists sellers by forecasting order trends so they can prepare in advance, ensuring products reach buyers promptly — ultimately increasing conversion opportunities and generating consistent revenue.

Avoid Making Weight Management Claims

Market: Singapore

View source

We are updating our policy for weight management and muscle gain content to help creators and sellers promote Health and Wellness products responsibly.

What's changing?

Additional weight management claims and behaviours are not allowed and may lead to violations. This means sellers and creators should be more careful when promoting products with weight loss, fat loss, or muscle gain benefits.

What to avoid

✗ Avoid claims that a product works like weight loss medicine.

- "Nature's Ozempic"
- "GLP-1 booster", "GLP-1 support"

✗ Avoid encouraging unsafe exercise for weight loss or muscle gain, despite injury or illness.

- "I have a bad flu but I still need to run to lose weight"
- "No rest days, even when you're injured"
- "Push through the pain to burn fat"

✗ Avoid encouraging misuse of a product for weight loss or muscle gain.

- "The label says take 2, but I take 4 for faster results"

- "Double the dose to slim down faster"

✗ Avoid saying a product can change someone's body shape by altering internal body structure.

- "Wear this waist trainer and you'll become skinny"
- "Use this waist trainer to tighten your body and create curves"

✗ Avoid promoting body scales or food scales with high-risk weight management claims or idealised body appearances.

- "Track every gram of food to get skinny fast"
- "I use these food scales to restrict my diet to very low calories"

Link and upgrade to organization account

Recommended

 Recommended for

- Sellers who want to keep their existing followers, content, and account history

 Benefits

- Followers, videos, and livestream history are retained.
- Your shop continues operating normally, with no interruption to sales or payouts.
- You can still run livestreams, post shoppable videos, and promote products as usual.
- Lower short-term GMV risk compared with starting from zero.
- Your TikTok algorithm recommendations are not affected.

 Things to note

- You can switch back to a personal account within the 15-day trial period. After the trial period ends, the upgrade becomes permanent and cannot be reversed.

Create a brand-new organization account

Only use if necessary

 Recommended for

- Sellers who do not have an existing TikTok account
- Sellers whose previous account has severe issues or violations

 Benefits

- Provides a clean slate, which may be suitable if the old account has severe issues or violations.

 Things to note

- A new account starts from zero, with no followers, content, or livestream history.
- This may lead to higher short-term GMV or traffic risk.
